

I LOVE XM radio! My daughter and I spend a lot of time in the car. XM gives us more variety to make our car rides more enjoyable. If I'm paying for it, why should anyone have the right to take it away? If regular stations offered the same programming as XM, then I wouldn't have it. But since that's obviously not going to happen, it's my choice to pay for this service. It's the same as cable t.v., but for your car. Is there a problem with cable?
